

Then God spoke all these words: I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of slavery; you shall have no other gods before me.

You shall not make for yourself an idol, whether in the form of anything that is in heaven above, or that is on the earth beneath in the water below. You shall not bow down to them or worship them; for the Lord your God is a jealous God, punishing children for the sins of parents, to the third and fourth generation of those who reject me, but showing love – love to a thousand generations of those who love me and keep my commandments

You shall not make wrong use of the name of the Lord your God, for the Lord will not hold anyone guiltless who misuses his name.

But the seventh day is sabbath to the Lord your God: you shall not do any work – not you, nor your son or your daughter, nor your male or female slave, nor your livestock, nor the stranger who knocks at your gate. For in six days the Lord made the heavens and earth, the sea, and all that is in them, but on the seventh day he rested. Therefore, the Lord blessed that day and made it Sabbath.

Honor your father and mother, that you might live long in the land that the Lord God has given you.

You shall not murder.

You shall not commit adultery.

You shall not steal.

You shall not bear false witness against your neighbor.

You shall not covet your neighbor's house; nor shall you covet his wife, nor his male or female servant, nor his oxen or donkey, nor anything belonging to your neighbor.
